Mr. Hart explained that he had called upon Mr. Faust, but did not find him in, and had left word for him to meet him at the Franklin school building. Mr. Evans felt sore upon the subject, and thought it a deliberate attempt on the part of the old members to slight the new ones. Mr. Woodward said as far as that remark was intended for him, it was A DELIBERATE FALSEHOOD, who uttered it. The Chair demanded order, and notified the gentlemen that personalities must not be indulged in.

Major Richards did not desire to enter into

Mr. Murtagh was, on motion of Mr. Champlin, elected President pro tem. of the board.

Mr. Evans objected to one member of the board in his district employing a carpenter without consulting his colleagues. The Chair replied that the carpenter referred to was the same one employed by him a year ago, and Mr. Champlin. who recently employed him again, was acting in accordance with the views of the speaker. After some further debate in relation to consultation between the sub-boards, the board adjourned.

OLYMPICS VERSUS OLYMPICS-BALTIMORE

AGAINST WASHINGTON .- To day the namesakes of our blue legs, the crack nine from the Monumental City, will meet our boys on their own grounds, to contend for a ball, when it is to be hoped the tide of battle will be turned against "My Maryland;" they having, it will be remembered, won the first game by a score of 16 to 10. The Washing on Olympics will muster in strong "Force," waile the Marylanders will also be full handed. Altogether there is no doubt but that it will be a stubborn and hotly contested TOUR OF THE WHITE STOCKINGS .- The White Stocking Base-ball Club, who will start from Chicago on their second eastern four on the 24th instant, will play the Olympics, of Philadelphia, on the 26th; the Mutuals, in New York, on Monday, the 23th; the Athletics, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, the 20th; the Nationals, in Washington, on Friday, Sept. 1; the Olympics, in Washington, (an exhibition game,) on Saturday, the 2d; the Bostons, in Boston, on Wednesday, the 6th; the Eckfords, in Brooklys, on Thursday, the 7th, and then home. The trip involves seven games, three of them for the championship, and it is expected that the series with the Bortons and Mutuals will have been ended, while another game will have to be played with the Athletics in Chicago. This programme is liable to alteration, so as to embrace a game with the Haymakers, in Troy.

AN UNSAFE BUILDING .- Mr. Adolf Cluss, Superintendent of Buildings, y terday visited the building at the northeast corner of 6th and F streets, and found it in a very ursafe condition, owing to the fact that the laborers employed in digging a cellar had dug several met below the foundation. A portion of the cellar wall had already fallen in consequence, and the whole building was in a dangerous condition. Mr. Cluss immediately ordered the people in the adjoining house to vacate the premises, and Mr. Hannan, the owner of the ursafe building, was directed to employ a competent builder, which he did, securing the services of Baldwin & Bro. A substantial fence was then erected around the prem'ser, and the property placed in charge of the Metropolitan police. The builders are at work to-day understraining the metropolitan police. work to-day underpinning the unsafe building.

STABLE BURNED BY A CHILD .- This morning at nine o'clock an alarm was turned in from box No. 3, corner of 11th and I streets southeast, caused by the burning of a hay stable belonging to Thomas E. Clark, on the corner of I and 15th streets; damage $300—no insurance. The fire-men were prompt in attendance and extin-guished the flames. banks, to be carted away, but the weight was too much for the sustaining walls, which com-was to float it away on scows to a cove between the mouth of the canal and Buzzard's Point.

This was afterwards stopped on account of its filling up the channel of the Eastern Branch, and the contractors soon afterwards hauled up for the season, first, however dredging a narrow wide to admit the machines into the basin. The mud had formed here so that it was impossible to get a flat-boat over this basin except at high tide, and the machines had to cut their way foot by foot. And here, again, the same diffi-from the north wall, bringing the row near the present center of the canal, and is to continue to 6th street. The piles are about four feet apart, of the best spruce pine, and are driven home to a solid foundation; behind, and about four feet from this row, is another at the same distance, and both rows are to be cut off under water, on the tops of which and longitudinally is a capping of 12-inch Susquehannah bridge timber. On this timber there will be laid a plank floor, as a foundation for the wall, which is to be taken up from the north side, and relaid on this new foun driven, as ties, exactly like that before described on the opposite side, and to be tied with iron are to be cut off to suit, and arranged to swing around, thus giving free passage to vessels, and boats of any size. This can be very easily done and without much cost. The present bridges will answer. Mr. Rider, the gentleman who constructed them, is now in this city, and gives it as his opinion, that this change can easily be made. The plan proposed, is to construct a center pin as a support, and swing them from the south abutment wall. ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH .- Mr. George A. Another Sudden Death.—Mr. George A. Burch, an old and well-known citizen, residing at No. 305 10th street northwest, died suddenly at about 9 o'clock last night. He had been complaining of feeling unweil for several days past, and just before his death drank about a quart of ice water. In a few minutes after, he was seized with convulsions, and died almost immediately. The coroner viewed the body but deemed an inquest unnecessary. The deceased was about fifty-three years old, and a plasterer by trade. Drs. Reilly and Gardner were in attendance, but could not avert a fatal termination of his illness.

THE PUNERAL of the late A. H. Thompson, took place from the East Washington M. E. Church yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Joseph P. Wilson. The procession marched to the Congressional Cemetery (where the remains were interred) in the following order: Junior Tent of Rechabites, Eagle Tent, senior; members of the Sabbath school, members of the congregation and triends of the deceased. The services at the grounds were conducted by High Chief Ruler Thomas B. Marche, of the I. O. K., of which the deceased was a prominent member. of which the deceased was a prominent member.

Nothing further has been received at the Collector's office to indicate the length of time which will be required to repair the damage. Mr. George Waters has received advices from the break, dated yesterday morning, which state that at that time it was one hundred and fifty yards wide, and that it was hourly becoming MORE SNAKES .- The killing of a mocasin snake on Washington street was mentioned a few days ago. One morning since then a snake of the same species crawled out of a log of wood that a wood sawyer was sawing in the yard of a gentleman residing on Cameron street, and a short time afterwards, while the wife of the same gentleman was arranging some fern that she had purchased from a market man, she was very much alarmed at the sight of the head of another of the same sort of reptiles pro-truding from the leaves she was handling—and t wasn't a snaky morning either.
